PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa Newc was happily surprised Monday to notice that a local business firm has trimmed the rear wall of its building for the holiday season in addition to decorating attractively the front part.

One of the largest crowds that was ever downtown filled the stores and streets Monday evening. The combination of Christmas shopping and the balmy weather brought out what seemed like half the population of New Castle and environs.

Robert Colbert of Gardner Shop reports to Pa Newc that he shot a six-point buck near Marionville, Pa., on Saturday, December 7. This is the first deer hunting he has done in the past three years as he has been in the Navy.

Pa Newc espied more one-eyed drivers Monday evening, than he has in many days. On Highland avenue, three cars following closely behind one another, had only one head lamp illuminated on each car. On the East side the conditions were about the same.

Shirt sleeves were in order again Monday evening, Pa Newc. Many were in the downtown area very lightly attired as they shopped in the various stores. A very light rain fell in the early part of the evening but did not materialize into a shower.

With dimout restrictions lifted, downtown New Castle last night looked like Christmas shopping was in full swing. Unusually large crowds were on the streets and in the stores, and the conditions were a notable transformation from the previous week when the dim-out gave an air of gloom to the scene.

Report is made to Pa Newc that would-be hitch hikers are creating a dangerous traffic situation in a practice that has developed on Highland avenue. Groups of several youths will crowd out into the cartway of the street, after dark, in their effort to flag down motorists who are driving the thoroughfare. Sometimes drivers are forced to veer toward the center of the highway to clear the groups.

Robert Jones, Jr., a senior at Princeton high school, was successful in bagging an eight point buck weighing 140 pounds, in Venango county, Saturday. This was his first day of hunting and he shot the deer at 9:30 a. m.

Gerald W. Walsh, 229 Maryland avenue and his buds, Bill Drott of Ellwood City, have returned from Sheffield, Pa., where both were successful in bagging bucks. Walsh's deer was an 8 pointer and weighed 150 pounds, while the Ellwood youth's was a 9 point buck weighing 160 pounds. Both are veterans of World War II.

President To Ask For Power To Curb Strikes

Will Seek Effective Legislation To Halt Strikes Threatening Nation's Economy

WILL APPEAR BEFORE CONGRESS SESSION

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—President Truman will present the new congress with the strongest possible request for extraordinary powers to curb future strikes that threaten the nation's economy.

The chief executive will make a personal appearance before a joint session of the Republican-dominated congress in early January when the lawmakers reconvene.

Mr. Truman's request for strike-curbing legislation will be a major part of his state of the union message to the house and senate.

Will Seek Effective Means

The president's determination to seek a means by which the executive branch of the government can handle effectively strikes of nationwide impact has been crystallized by the crisis brought about by the soft coal walkout.

This year's state of the union message will be comparatively brief. It will deal in great measure with the economic forces that have arisen during the past 12 months.

Much of it will deal with the series of major social threats in industry that have arisen during the past 12 months.

Restaurant Workers In Detroit Strike

Estimate 3000 In Surprise Walkout This Morning; Patrons Without Breakfast

DETROIT, Dec. 10.—(INS)—An estimated three thousand Detroit restaurant workers called a "surprise" walkout today leaving thousands of downtown office workers without breakfast.

The strikers, members of Local 234 and 705, A. F. L., closed both Greenfield cafeterias, all Stouffers restaurants, Karstens, and most of the other major eating places.

Picket lines encircled all strike-bound restaurants and would-be customers were told "no breakfast this morning."

Fred Simonsen, president of Greenfields, said his company has been negotiating with the union for a long time but cannot meet the demands without increasing prices. "We cannot raise prices enough to meet their demands," he added. "We expect to be closed a long time. We had not been notified of a strike."

Trailer Campus Slaying Trial Gets Under Way

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Dec. 10.—(INS)—A jury of 10 men and two women today heard the commonwealth press its case against John E. Galloway, 23, of Harrisburg, accused of slaying his bride of 34 days on the "trailer campus" of Pennsylvania State college October 26.

The youth, a veteran of the Army Air Forces, was attending college under the GI Bill of Rights. His wife, Catherine Diamond Galloway, 20, formerly of Nanticoke, was fatally wounded by a slug from a .32 calibre pistol as she sat in her trailer home.

District Attorney E. L. Willard, of Bellefonte, was expected to press for the death penalty although Galloway pleaded innocent when the trial opened yesterday.

United Nations Assembly Makes Little Progress

Six Weeks Of Plenary Sessions Shows Sorry Record Of Accomplishment

By GEORGE DURO
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Dec. 10.—Ponderous United Nations machinery continued to grind away today in a rather abortive attempt to solve some of the world's most pressing post-war problems.

The general assembly, with its 54 delegations, goes into session at four and eight p. m. while UN committees will meet during the day to arrive at reports upon which the assembly could act.

Call Diplomats from Spain
In a last-minute compromise, the 54-member political and security committee voted to pull all ambassadors and ministers out of Franco Spain—but not break diplomatic relations nor apply an economic quarantine.

The United States delegation, which previously had announced it would not sever relations, was expected today to advise the committee how Washington felt about pulling out its ambassador until such time as Franco's fascist regime was replaced.

Similarly, the approach of world arms reduction—including prohibition of the atomic bomb and all other weapons capable of mass destruction—had bogged down somewhat.

Little Accomplished
In better than six weeks the general assembly (Continued on Page Two)

Missing College Girl Not Found

BENNINGTON, Vt., Dec. 10.—(INS)—Authorities, lacking definite evidence that a crime has been committed, relegated today to "missing person" status the investigation of the disappearance of Paula Welden, pretty 18-year-old Bennington college student.

State Detective Alno B. Franzoni announced the state must rely chiefly on circularization of the country's large cities. Franzoni said he had no definite evidence a crime has been committed.

W. Archibald Welden, Stamford, Conn., industrial engineer, father of the missing girl, was critical of the state's action.

The reward for information leading to finding of Paula has grown to $6,000.

Plane Explodes Near Columbus

(BULLETIN)

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 10.—(INS)—The state highway patrol reported shortly after noon today that an army plane had exploded in mid-air and crashed on a farm south of Circleville.

Patrol radio said that patrolmen had been sent to the scene but had not been able to determine the type of plane or the number of victims. They said that wreckage was scattered over a wide area.

The plane was believed to be from the Lockbourne army air base at Columbus.

New Theory On Fatal Hotel Fire

Investigation Points To Possibility Carelessly Thrown Cigarette Was Cause Of Blaze

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 10.—(INS)—Investigation of the Wincoff hotel fire which cost 120 lives today pointed toward the possibility that the fire began when a cigarette was thrown carelessly on a mattress on the third floor.

The mattress was found near a bedroom which was only 10 feet from the stairway which wound around the elevator shaft of the 15-story building, scene of America's worst hotel fire.

A C. Hutson, assistant chief engineer of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, who is investigating the Saturday morning blaze, said the stairway acted like a funnel, sucking the flames through the upper stories of the hotel.

Started On Third Floor
Hutson, testifying before a board of fire marshals and a city council committee last night, asserted there is definite evidence that the fire started on the third floor.

He also revealed that remnants of the mattress were found on the floor and that a lighted cigarette might have ignited it and started the blaze.

Hutson declared there was no doubt that lack of a fire-proof stairway was responsible for the blaze engulfing the upper portion of the hotel.

Comer L. Rowan, a night auditor at the hotel, told the investigating board that he saw bodies of guests plummet to the street while he was turning in the first alarm by telephone.

Secretary of War Patterson and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower issued new, stricter instructions for apprehension of the two widely different types of law-breakers.

Community Christmas Carol Program Starts

Downtown New Castle was blanketed with melody Monday night from Croton avenue to the West Side bridge and from Fifth street to Lawrence avenue. The Senior High School Alumni choir presented the first of a series of municipal Christmas carol programs on the Public Square and the results were delightfully successful.

Between eight and eighty thirty the choir of young men and women sang many of the old favorites and a number of the modern ones, directed by Robert A. Duff with Jean Chapman at the piano. It was the first public appearance of the alumni choir but the usual polished Duff technique could be seen and heard in their performance.

Through the generosity of Clarence J. England of the Pennsylvania P. W. company the concert was carried from the square over the downtown area by means of amplifiers set up at various places. The choir sang from the steps of the Federal building with the piano on a Mooney Brothers truck. Following the concert the choir was taken over the city and presented half a dozen shorter concerts.

Ralph Gardner Is Badly Hurt

Injured In Auto Accident Near Struthers, O., Shortly After Midnight

(BULLETIN)
At noon today the authorities of the Youngstown South Side hospital said Mr. Gardner's condition was fair. An X-ray has been taken to determine the extent of his injuries but no report had been made at noon.

Ralph Gardner, retired athletic director of the New Castle Senior High school and presently associated with the Johnson-Bridge company in the Youngstown South Side hospital with severe contusions of the head and fear of a possible broken neck vertebrae caused when his automobile was upset shortly after midnight on Route 40, near Struthers, O.

Mr. Gardner was proceeding south on Route 90 said to have been going about 30 miles per hour when Walter Kady, 24, an amputee veteran of World War II attempted to pass him. Kady apparently cut in too close and caught the left rear fender of Mr. Gardner's car, upsetting it.

The Gardner car rolled over several times and came to rest upside down. The car was badly wrecked. Passing motorists got him out of the wreckage and got him to the hospital. Kady suffered bruises about the legs and ankles.

Believe Severed Hands Came From Medical School

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10.—(INS)—District Attorney Artemus C. Leslie today said he believed the two pair of human hands found in the underbrush in Kilbuck township came from an out-of-state medical school.

The district attorney said the hands had been treated for preservation in a solution used by schools outside of Pennsylvania. He said professors at the University of Pittsburgh's medical school examined the hands.

The hands, neatly severed at the wrists, had been dissected by persons skilled with a knife, the district attorney added.

Return Of Mines To Owners Seen As Long Delayed

Lewis' Action Appears To Have Upset Plan To Return Mines To Operators

ARGUMENT ON COAL CASE ON JANUARY 14

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—John L. Lewis appeared today to have thoroughly upset the administration's hope for a speedy end to government management of the bituminous coal industry.

One top-ranking official said "it is now impossible for the government to get out of the coal business any time soon."

The official said Lewis' action in sending the miners back to work until next March 31 set a deadline which the government can't ignore.

Release of the mines, he said, would give the appearance that the government was "running out on the situation" after having "decree" a finish fight with the UMW chieftain.

Only Hope Seen
The only hope for ending federal seizure of the industry lies in negotiation of a wage agreement between the union and private operators, the administration spokesmen added.

Industry representatives indicated, however, that the mine owners are in no mood to talk terms with Lewis pending a supreme court ruling on his contempt conviction.

They also fear that if Lewis wins his appeal "he'll be tougher than ever to deal with."

The operators also were keeping their eyes on Capitol Hill where a new Republican congress convenes (Continued on Page Two)

Only Few Mines Fail To Reopen

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10.—(INS)—Coal production was reported at about 80 per cent of normal today with only a few scattered mines across the nation failing to reopen.

Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, producers of more than 50 per cent of the nation's bituminous coal, reported nearly all mines in full production.

Kentucky and Tennessee had only a few pits inoperative. In Ohio 800 miners employed by the Poughat Mining company near Martins Ferry were scheduled to meet today to discuss the contempt fines levied against them. They refused to work yesterday in protest over the $1-a-day assessments.

At the same time production moved forward when the first shipments of coal arrived at steel mills and factories.

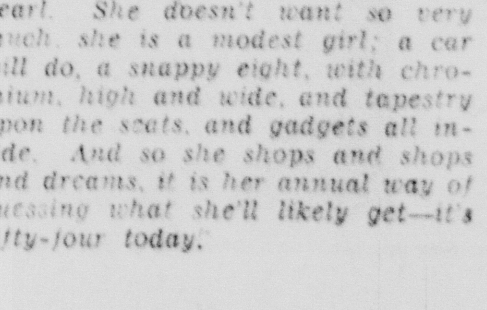

WILL CONTINUE RELIEF BATTLE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(INS)—UNRRA Director Flavelle LaGuardia is expected to continue his fight for an extension of international relief through 1947 when he reports today to the meetings of the UNRRA council.

The 48-nation council opens a three-day conference in Washington today to hear LaGuardia's quarterly report and map plans for winding up its affairs by December 31 in Europe and by June 30 in the Far East.

A clash between LaGuardia and acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson over the future of machinery for international relief promises to develop at the meeting.

Man Stages Holdup To Get Arrested So He Can Go To Prison

Sounds Silly, But William Shannon, 75, Has Spent 31 Years In Prison, Likes It

OAKLAND, Cal., Dec. 10.—(INS)—For 75-year-old William Shannon today prison life seemed more secure than the "outside world"—a world he hadn't lived in for the past 31 years.

Thirty-one years ago he entered the state prison at Folsom for second degree murder. In his prison cell he missed two world wars and two depressions.

Then last July Shannon was paroled. He found shelter at the Little Sisters of the Poor Home in Oakland.

But life on "the outside" seemed too complex. It was a strange world—too strange.

Is Happy Now

So last night Bill Shannon walked into a small Oakland restaurant armed with a toy pistol. Halfheartedly he told the waitress to hand over the money in the cash register.

Neither did he put up a struggle when a customer easily overpowered him.

Bill Shannon's toy pistol clattered to the floor and shattered. He seemed happy as police officers led him away to jail. Simply, and with relief in his voice, Shannon told his captors:

"Prison life is the only life I know. I want to get back. This seemed the way."

planned to tell the nation Sunday night before John L. Lewis called off the coal warlock will be embodied in a presidential message to the congress. Barring a new strike crisis between now and early January, the president does not plan to present his views on recurring strike threats before he makes his appearance on Capitol Hill.

Strike Against Government

The presidential view of the soft coal warlock is the same he took of the threatened nationwide railroad strike last spring. The White House views such a work stoppage as a strike against the government itself. Mr. Truman believes that strikes of such a nature that affect the nation's entire economy cannot be tolerated.

Mr. Truman is expected to ask congress for broad powers to handle strikes that are threatened or occur in any industry that would present a national emergency.

This legislation is expected to be of a drastic nature. It will, however, apply only to such industries as are vital to the nation's fundamental economy. The president will not seek to interfere with the general right of workers to strike against private employers where collective bargaining has broken down and where the industry is not vital to national welfare.

RETURN OF MINES TO OWNERS SEEN AS LONG DELAYED

next month, Sen. Taft (R. Ohio, who may head the senate labor committee, has advocated congressional enactment of reform labor legislation before the coal truce expires.

Argue Case Jan. 14

The supreme court set the coal case for argument Jan. 14. Its decision will determine whether Lewis and the UMW will have to pay $1,500,000 in fines for violating a district court order against the recent 17-day mine shutdown.

President Truman on Nov. 15 proposed to Lewis that he negotiate with private operators for two months in an effort to obtain a new contract, but the proposal was rejected by the union. The president's plan contemplated release of the mines Jan. 15 regardless of the outcome of the negotiations.

However, the coal warlock just concluded has so depleted the nation's fuel supply that the government cannot risk another winter shutdown by premature action in stepping out of the coal business.

cotton of Harrisburg. State police ballistics expert, were the commonwealth's initial witnesses.

Juba testified that Galloway had confessed the shooting twice, one of which allegedly was recorded.

Whitecotton told the court that examinations proved the slug had come from the pistol allegedly handled by Galloway.

The youth, according to authorities, had drank several bottles of beer at a fraternity house on the campus prior to the tragedy.

Defense counsel said they were prepared to show that the shooting was what they called a "horrible accident."

Galloway's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Galloway of Harrisburg, were in the Centre county courtroom when the trial began. The youth has been held in the county jail since the shooting.

Statements Read

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Dec. 10.—Three statements allegedly made by 23-year-old John E. Galloway, of Harrisburg, accused of slaying his wife in their trailer home near Pennsylvania State College, were read to a jury today by prosecuting attorneys.

One statement, recorded by Police Chief John R. Juba, of State College, following the shooting October 10, stated that the youth said he "didn't know" what he was doing when the tragedy occurred.

A jury of 10 men and two women heard the statements as the trial of the former Army Air Forces veteran entered its second day in the Centre county court house at Bellefonte. Galloway had been attending college under the GI Bill of Rights.

It was bought out during preliminary questioning that the 35-year-old pistol had been a gift to Galloway from his father-in-law.

Juba and campus police from State College testified briefly today about the scene in the trailer and events following Galloway's arrest.

In one statement, Galloway was asked whether he intended using the pistol to shoot his wife and he replied "I definitely did not."

He told police, according to a statement, that the shooting occurred after he had cleaned the gun. He said he and his wife had returned to their trailer home after visiting his fraternity house.

In the recorded statement introduced by the prosecution, Galloway described the gun cleaning and then said:

"Evidently I aimed the gun at her but I didn't realize what I was doing at the time. I feel very sorry of course but that won't bring my wife back to me."

during October. Reductions in the War department totaled 36,984 and in the Navy department 10,404.

Biggest monthly increases, Byrd said, occurred in the Veterans Administration, War Assets Administration, and the Commerce and Post Office departments.

Byrd added:

"It is obvious now that voluntary reductions in the government establishments cannot be expected and that personnel ceiling limitations established in the pay act of 1946... have not fully brought about decreases necessary to a business-like and economical government. The only remedy for swollen payrolls is additional legislation which will make further cuts mandatory."

WOMAN INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY BICYCLE

Mrs. Elizabeth Harper, of 424 Neshaunock avenue, received a fracture of the left arm, bruises of the left knee, and bruises and contusions of the left shoulder, when struck by a bicycle, ridden by William Walker, 16, 128 Elm street, at the intersection of East and Washington streets, Monday evening.

She was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital at 8:05 p. m. for treatment.

eral assembly has produced a rather sorry record.

Thus far, in plenary sessions, it has accomplished exactly this:

1. Election of Sweden, Iceland and Afghanistan to United Nations membership.

2. Decision that three non-permanent members should be placed on the powerful security council.

3. Expansion of the economic and social council by six members. Four were chosen. Four ballots failed to choose the remaining two.

4. Adoption of an Indian resolution condemning race discrimination, particularly aimed at South Africa's treatment of Indian nationals.

British, Russian and other delegations had booked passage on December 14 for home ports. Now it appeared the assembly would run until December 17.

READING CIRCLE TEA AND PROGRAM GIVEN

One of the loveliest events of the season was the Christmas tea of the Reading Circle given Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. George D. Morris, 229 Fairfield avenue. Evergreens and Christmas decorations, including a crèche, were placed throughout the living rooms for the occasion.

Several readings by Mrs. B. E. Sankey highlighted the program. She gave "The Night Before Christmas," "A Little Christmas Basket" by Paul Lawrence Dunbar, and "The Night After Christmas."

Mrs. Henry Stone traced the history of various carols and told the stories of how some of them came to be written. In illustration, Mrs. M. M. Ingham at the piano played some of the carols and also accompanied the group in singing carols at intervals throughout the program.

Mrs. Leroy Clark was program chairman. Members answered roll call with a Christmas quotation. Gifts for the Neighborhood House were taken to the meeting and it was reported that on November 9 a group of members served at the Jameson Memorial hospital. Extended a welcome as a new member was Mrs. David Tomkins. Special guests of the afternoon were Mrs. H. N. Drio, Mrs. Carl Gilmore, Mrs. J. C. Wachtman, Mrs. C. R. Chafe, Mrs. Samuel Staats and Miss Jane Wallace.

Tea was served from a table prettily decorated with greens and white candles. Mrs. John Z. Street poured. Social committee in charge was Mrs. Ethel Rentz Ferver, Mrs. George D. Morris and Mrs. Clarence Ruthrauff.

Next meeting will be January 13 at the home of Mrs. H. A. Donaldson, 420 Park avenue.

Lifting Controls

Within the week President Truman accepted the resignations of three top officials whose positions have given them great influence over the nation's economy. First to go was Price Administrator Porter, then House Expediter Wyatt, and then Civilian Production Administrator Small joined the procession.

Of the three, the resignation of Wyatt is by all odds the most significant. Porter's departure merely confirmed the fact that the OPA had become a moribund institution. Small asked to be relieved of his responsibilities for personal reasons rather than because he was out of sympathy with the administration's change of course. But the retirement of Wyatt was the result of the President's decision rejecting recommendations of the housing chief.

In his letter accepting Wyatt's resignation the President did not discuss these recommendations. Nor did he deal with them in an accompanying statement on the present status of the housing problem. But he did say that the housing program must now be adapted to "the government's announced policy of relaxing controls."

So it is plain that Wyatt wanted to continue the controls he had exercised in the past and perhaps to expand them. There can be no question, in the light of this development, that the administration is sincerely bent on dropping all economic curbs as rapidly as possible to give business and industry full freedom of action in providing the production needed to revive the nation's sick economy.

Sensible Course

In lifting the curtain of secrecy that has hidden the importation of German scientists to carry on military research in this country, the War Department has been careful to make out a good case for this program. Its announcement asserts, for example, that the knowledge contributed by these experts has already saved the United States more than $750,000,000 in basic research on rocket weapons alone.

That is to say that if the American scientists had to duplicate the work done by the Germans in order to arrive at the stage they had reached the cost would have run to the figure mentioned. Add the $200,000,000 reported to have been saved in aeronautical research and the 330 Germans now in this country, many of them recent arrivals, are credited with relieving this country of the necessity of spending nearly a billion dollars.

If these estimates are accurate, they force a conclusion that since other Germans now working here are experts in numerous other lines of research, it is clear that the Germans were ahead in a number of important fields.

This fact is the best justification for the decision to bring these men to the United States and permit them to go on with their investigations. There was much to be learned from them and the sensible and realistic course was to admit it and begin at once to take advantage of their knowledge.

It is gratifying to be informed that they have come on a voluntary basis, and that the nation is getting them at bargain rates, but it is more gratifying to know that their knowledge is being made available to this country.

Southward, Ho!

World War II taught military men much about tropical warfare and survival, but only a smattering was learned about similar problems in the earth's coldest climates. The postwar development of extremely long-range aircraft and guided missiles has convinced United States defense officials of the importance of immediately expanding their knowledge of cold-weather fighting conditions.

Both the United States and Canada are giving increasing attention to their newest, most vulnerable frontier—the Arctic. Defense chiefs realize that not only air but amphibious attacks are possible across the top of the world. They know that interior American cities are closer to many parts of Europe and Asia via the North Pole than across the Atlantic or Pacific. The Army and Navy both have made recent tests of men and equipment in the Arctic, but the large-scale cold-weather expedition is now headed for the opposite end of the world.

The Byrd naval task force is going to the Antarctic, not because an attack is contemplated from that direction, but probably to avoid any implication of provocation that might arise from sending northward an expedition of similar dimensions. Identical conditions will be encountered, however, and results applicable to either area are anticipated.

Operation High Jump, which is the name of the expedition, of course will have important scientific and geographical as well as military knowledge objectives. It will be the largest exploring party in history and its probable contribution toward opening up to the world's peacetime usage the ice-locked treasures of a vast unknown can hardly be overestimated.

When scarcities in commodities disappear, will scarcity of money take their place?

When uranium is used for heating purposes, will there be a John L. Lewis to forbid its production?

President Truman may play ball with the new Congress, as he says, but the Republicans will bat first.

Joe DiMaggio's book, "It's Great to Be a Yankee," is said to be going pretty good—but wait till Senator Claghorn hears about it!

You're Telling Me

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Writer

His enemies, the Aztecs, were no mean clonches at scrapping. However, when it came to a really rough-hewn, the Indians didn't belong in the same ring with the cling-dong dockwalloper from Eastrendura, Spain.

In less than two years Cortes had every native from the Isthmus of Panama to the Rio Grande saying, "Yes, sir!"—and meaning it.

However, though he was a rick-tailed roarer on the field of combat, Hernandez was no match for the slick politicians back home.

They looked him out of his rights as boss man of Mexico. Cortes helped to the king of Spain for help, but what he got was plenty of nothing. His majesty, it seems, was looking out of the window at the moon.

When Cortes set out to conquer Mexico, the odds against him were about a million to one—which suited him just fine.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Big Business Pressure Forced Wyatt To Quit

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Nothing that has happened since V-J Day caused so much pulling and hauling within the Truman Administration as the dismissal of Wilson Wyatt as housing expediter. This was the clearest test yet whether big business would kill all controls.

George Allen, head of the RFC and the official funny man of the administration, won the battle and with it the war. His big business friends, such as Tom Girdler and Victor Emanuel, owe him a great deal.

But Wyatt was not defeated without a fight. Only reluctantly did President Truman yield to the pressure of Allen and others around him to reject Wyatt's program and thereby force his resignation. As one of Wyatt's associates put it during the battle:

"You've got only one friend in the White House, and that's the President. But it doesn't look as though that would be enough."

Wyatt did an extraordinary job against great odds in getting 700,000 veterans' homes started. He fought right up to the end for the measures he considered essential to keep the program rolling. In a memorandum he sent to the White House on November 20, he put in blunt language what he saw as the choice.

Only One Item
The memorandum makes it clear that the dispute over 100 per cent RFC loans for rental housing developments was only one item in the controversy.

Wyatt told the President that channeling of materials, continuation of priorities and premium payments, a check of real estate speculation and other emergency steps were necessary if the veterans' program was not to bog down.

"The de-control of prices and the abandonment of wage controls make it doubly necessary to utilize fully and effectively the remaining controls and other available tools to speed and aid residential construction," Wyatt told the President.

Speaking of the need for mass-produced houses such as he proposed to underwrite in the Lustran plant in Chicago, the housing expediter wrote:

"Emergency RFC loans—100 per cent if necessary—must be made to launch this new industry. During the war we did not hesitate to risk dollars to protect our fighting men from the enemy. We must not hesitate to risk dollars now to protect these same men from the bitter frustration of failure to find a home and from the demoralization of family life which follows."

With the Federal Housing Administration guaranteeing 50 per cent of loans to veterans, Wyatt wanted the RFC to underwrite the other 10 per cent. This would have been limited to a period ending July 1 next year. Allen insisted it was necessary to find out what Congress thought about the even though under the Federal Emergency Housing Act ample authority existed for such a step. Wyatt replied that this would mean at least a three months delay when planning for the 1947 building season was essential.

Plain Speaking
In the wind-up of his November 20 memorandum, Wyatt got off some plain speaking. Every part is essential.

"It will require your leadership to see that the people of this country are kept aware of the urgency of the veterans' need for homes, to see that the problem is met by a national unity of purpose and action, to see that every necessary branch of the Federal government puts its full energies and resources into the emergency housing program."

We cannot face our veterans with a half-hearted housing program. There are really only two choices. The country must adopt and carry through an all-out veterans' housing program—a real emergency program—or return to building-as-usual.

"The ground in between offers nothing but confusion and blasted hopes to the homeless veteran."

The report shears through the non-essentials of the housing controversy to make clear what the issue is. Nothing like the hoped-for number of dwellings will be constructed during the coming year. There will be increasing delays in construction already in progress. That is part of the cost of the decision taken by the White House.

In home construction, as in so many other lines, the smart money is now waiting for a drop in prices. That may be good business. But it is not meeting the obligation to the men who fought and won the war.

State Police Say:

As of December 1st, state police investigated 1201 traffic accidents in the counties of Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Lawrence and Mercer. These 1201 accidents took the lives of 85 persons. Are we willing to pay this price in human lives for the privilege of using the streets and highways? The answer lies, to a large extent, in your hands.

LOOKING AT LIFE

I have bad news for cat owners. Owing to a still existing serious shortage of Nepeta Cataria, it will be almost impossible to use it as a Christmas present for your favorite feline.

I am calling it Nepeta Cataria only to show you how well educated I am, or at least that I own a dictionary.

It is Latin for catnip and you know, of course, how delightfully catnip affects cats.

However, don't be too disappointed about the catnip shortage. I don't think your cat will like you any the less if you don't give it a Christmas present at all.

In that respects cats and dogs are much more sensible than human beings.

Here we have been sitting in our den for several evenings, making up lists of people to whom we should give presents or send cards.

My wife made a careful list of everybody who gave us a present last year and of several hundred people who sent us cards.

Each present is listed and each card is carefully noted. There is also a column showing to whom we gave presents and sent cards, and as I am writing this, she is busy with ruler and pencil, making up this year's list.

It is quite remarkable how these Christmas "obligations" change from year to year.

Several of our "friends" of last year are friends no longer, for various reasons.

So they go off the list. A few who were married last year

It might not be a bad idea for every place in New Castle to do a little checking . . . and we don't mean on paper either . . . Since the tragic fire in Atlanta . . . and the other fires throughout the nation . . . we here should be extremely cautious . . . There are a lot of places where crowds gather beside our local hotels. The folks who operate the "social" evenings should make sure that their place of entertaining is safe . . . that proper instructions are posted and made clear to their guests coming to the town. One ounce of precaution is worth many, many pounds of cure. Let's not look the barn door after the cow has been stolen . . . let's lock it before . . . we have had plenty of warning.

Amn't you glad that we all dug in and did out for the Community Chest . . . some towns are still working on their quota . . . for example, They are doing all within their power to push the mark . . . to date they have hit the 82 per cent mark . . . Don't forget that we here in New Castle have not hit our mark . . . we pushed it over the top. Yes, friends, to our way of thinking New Castle is a grand old town, a grand place to live and work and the people that go to make up the town are grand people.

Some local governments have been taken over by a veteran political group . . . that is veterans have been elected to fill the main posts. Be they Republican or Democratic political parties . . . In some cases this has worked wonders . . . down New Orleans way they have cleaned up the town to the point that today it is one of the cleanest towns of its size in the nation. It's something to think about . . . but more important . . . it is necessary to think about the proper veteran to fill a political or local government job. Just because a man is a veteran doesn't mean that he is the proper one to hold an office . . . no, indeed. There is considerable talk now in New Castle . . . what veterans will be interested in and have the qualifications to enter the local government field.

On the other hand . . . it is advisable to look for a veteran . . . how about looking over the field of non-veterans. This is America . . . the best men should be considered.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CONSISTENT ACTION IS IMPORTANT

Some fathers are just sissies about disciplining the child, especially the young child. But more often than not the father is stricter than the mother and he is more readily obeyed than she is.

More fathers than mothers face the stern realities of the business and industrial world where they grow more aware than mothers do of the value of obedience. Besides, a good many fathers have served in the armed forces where obedience is the first law.

Far more mothers than fathers have been reading articles and books and attending lectures which have emphasized persuasion and condemned any form of coercion, especially any form of physical punishment at any time.

A Mother's Letter
Many a mother writes she is puzzled because the father may need to speak only once to her many times in order to be obeyed. Here is a sample:

"I am one of those mothers guilty of talking and talking before I get results from my two-year-old. I win out in the end, but it is rather exasperating by the end of the day. I believe my main trouble is that I don't have a stern voice and I absolutely will not scream at her."

I honestly believe she thinks I am a plaything . . . She is not a bad child but I do think she should react more readily to my commands now, as this habit may grow worse as she grows older.

With her daddy it is a different story. When he speaks she obeys and promptly. He uses a stern voice and only when commanding her. They love each other dearly but he really knows how to make her mind just by the tone of his voice."

Just the sound of a stern father's voice could cause her to obey him. Yet more is involved than is apparent. In the first place, this sternness is in contrast to the more gentle voice of the mother. Then his wider experience in the world of affairs renders him less ready to repeat a command and more ready to act, if the child does not obey, especially when he says "no" or "don't."

Besides, he is not around the child all day and not subjected to so much emotional strain as the mother is. If he exchanged places with her how different things might be.

Most fathers whose young children quickly obey them would be so much better fathers if they did not put so much faith in the sternness of voice if instead they employed gentle tones but were wholly consistent.

Should Be Consistent
Foolish are mothers who try to imitate the stern-toned father. Let the mother go on with her gentle tones and never raise her voice. Let them be consistent, never repeating "no" or "don't" but using the hand or a substitute penalty that is effective if the child does not respect her word. A stern voice is not necessary nor desirable for cultivating good discipline.

If there is no doubt expressed by the voice nor any felt by the person back of it, the best voice for good discipline is a quiet one used by a parent who does not repeat commands but who has the strength of character and skill to prove his or her word always can be accepted literally. Related beliefs are "Stubbiness" and "How to Teach the Meaning of No."

Some observers in Washington are surprised at the "slow death" of OPA. The agency which has been all but buried officially is acting strong on some fronts even now.

Usually reliable capital sources say that OPA is to be self-liquidating and will continue to control prices of sugar, syrups, rice and rents—the few remaining items on which there is price control.

However, some of these items have been scheduled for transfer to another group of the government for supervision.

It is rumored around town also that some new agency will be set up to assume the duties of CPA, OPA and other control agencies.

There is some possibility, incidentally, that OPA will order the lifting of rent controls. Although this order is being prepared by OPA, there is a likelihood that it will be held up pending establishment of the other new agency which will take over OPA's functions under the reorganization plan.

Answer? Of course, your mother-in-law should have telegraphed or written her blessings immediately on receipt of your message. This she should have done regardless of her personal feelings about the marriage. Perhaps she is a recent retiring soul who is too shy to write. There are such people!

Here is my suggestion: When she comes to town, have your husband telephone to her, suggesting that he bring you around for a meeting. If she refuses, there is naught you can do but take it slowly. But surely no one could be so rude. So I predict that she will welcome you with open arms. However, be sure to have your husband telephone to her before your meeting.

Question: In presenting cerosages at a shower, should I give them to the honor guest upon their arrival or should they be put on the dining table at each one's place?

Answer: They may be presented either when the guests arrive or they may be put at the guests' places at the table. The latter is the usual custom.

Question: Which is correct: Carib-bee-an or carib-be-an—emphasis on the third or the second syllable?

Answer: Carib-be-an is generally preferred but both are correct.

Washington Reports

No Balanced Budget in 1947 Experts Predict
See OPA As Self Liquidating; Lid Off Hotel Rentals?
Compulsory Military Training Is Still Issue

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Government experts say it is doubtful if the budget proposed by Truman recommends to Congress in January will be in balance. They point to continued high expenditure estimates and a sharp drop in anticipated tax revenues.

The president's budget is expected to call for expenditures estimated at 33 to 35 billion dollars for the next fiscal year. Experts believe tax revenues may drop as low as 30 billion.

Well-informed observers expect no room for the 20 per cent cut in income taxes proposed by some Republican leaders in Congress—or even for a smaller tax cut.

The high military budget made necessary by the international situation is the primary reason for the high expenditure estimate. The armed forces are expected to be allotted 10 of 12 billion dollars—and a scuffle with the War and Navy departments is due if it is held to that level.

Items not likely to be trimmed include:

Veterans' benefits, seven billion; interest on the debt, five billion; tax refunds, two billion; international commitments, three to four billion; public works, one billion; housing and social security, one billion; government operating expenses, two billion.

It is encouraging to read, in view of Mr. Wall's indictment, a statement from one Movie comedian recently that he is "gladly" deploring the political activities of many Communists in Hollywood.

There is a neat bit of satire in the Wall statement that "playing at revolution seems to justify the possession of a swimming pool and improves the taste of Astrakhan caviar and the feel of Russian sables."

No sane person believes for one moment that the screen favorites who live in luxury would consider "sharing the wealth" with the proletariat or consenting to any such standard of existence as that prevailing among the Communist masses in Russia. Yet it is definitely known that many outstanding figures in Moviedom are contributing generously to promote Communism in the United States and openly championing Stalin and Tito.

But it is not the Movie actors who are stirring up all the trouble just now in Hollywood. There is one in Mr. Wall's organization in the American Federation of Labor—Mr. Sorrell, who is defying the law in Hollywood. It would be a good idea for Mr. Wall and his chief, Mr. Green, to purge the American Federation of Labor of men like Sorrell.

Mueller Faces Split In Union

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10.—(INS)—George Mueller, who led his Duquesne Light company independent union through a turbulent six-weeks strike recently, today faced a new split in the ranks of his organization.

George Kallock, center of a picket clash during the strike led a group of eight employees of the Allegheny Steam Heating Co., who petitioned the State Labor Relations Board to withdraw from the union.

Kallock described Mueller's leadership as "irresponsible" and added that his group did not receive a $3 monthly pay increase granted the union in 1943. He said the union was "fed up" with Mueller's tactics, and that it lacked adequate representation in the organization.

A labor board decision in the case is expected within two weeks.

Maccia Testifies In Own Defense At Trial Today

Second Trial As Result Of South Side Shooting Is Nearing
Conclusion

Policeman Frank Maccia took the stand early today in his own defense against a charge of involuntary manslaughter in the shooting of Frank L. Baughman on June 26. He repeated substantially the same story he told in the September term trial which resulted in a disagreement by the jury.

Mr. Maccia said he saw Baughman going down Mill street on the morning of June 26 about 5 o'clock with a blanket on his shoulder. When he stopped him to question him the man threw the blanket at Maccia and ran, the policeman said. He gave chase and finally pulled his gun and fired, one bullet hitting Baughman in the spine.

Witnesses called by the commonwealth included County Detective Charles D. Ross, Dr. Z. N. Stutz, Photographer Glenn Carpenter, Coroner T. F. Nugent, Engineer W. Leslie Wilson, Annabelle McConnell, a sister of the deceased man, Anthony Ricciardi, a resident of the district where Baughman was shot, Joseph Caravella, another resident, Mrs. James Dimos from whom the blanket was stolen, Robert A. Slack, Frank A. Wadlinger, and Policeman Grove C. Syling. The trial is on in court room number one.

Governor O'Connor Victory At Polls Being Challenged

Victory Of Maryland Governor In Senatorial Race By Less Than
2,300 Challenged

BALTIMORE, Dec. 10.—(INS)—Attorneys for D. John Markey said today they would file with the senate campaign expenditures committee a petition challenging the victory of Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor, Democrat, over Markey in the Maryland U. S. senatorial race.

George Doub, chief counsel for Markey, said the petition will charge irregularities in the counting of votes in the close race, won by O'Connor with a majority of less than 2,300.

Doub added that the filing of petition is expected to result in an assignment of congressional investigators to Maryland to probe the election count.

Markey headquarters explained that the move is preliminary to their attempt to prevent O'Connor from taking office as senator when the new congress convenes Jan. 3.

May Increase Sugar Ration Early Next Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(INS)—The OFA announced today that it may be able to increase the present consumer sugar ration early next year.

A consumer stamp for the regular ration of five pounds of sugar for each four months will become valid January 1. However, the agency "anticipates" that a second stamp will be made valid before the end of the first four-month period on April 30.

At the same time, the agency announced that industrial and institutional sugar allotments for the first quarter of 1947 will remain unchanged from those granted for the last quarter of this year.

OPA said today's announcement was based on a department of agriculture civilian sugar allocation of one million, 260 thousand short tons for the period beginning January 1 and ending March 31, 1947.

REUTHER TO MAKE WAGE DEMANDS OF UAW UNIONS TODAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—(INS)—Public announcement of the 1947 pay demands of the 850,000 members of the United Automobile Workers (UAW) was expected to be made today by Walter Reuther, president of the union.

Reuther indicated that the union would seek a $2 a day wage boost in addition to a 3 per cent medical fund and a retirement fund. He said the union also would seek to establish an equalization fund designed to standardize pay rates throughout the auto industry.

New Castle Man Home From Trip To Norway

Home from his first visit to his native Norway since 1924, Frederick Berner, of 2103 Delaware avenue, told a reporter that the return to the United States just didn't have the thrill that it had during his first voyage to this country in 1917. Somehow, it seemed returning to a different United States, but after a view of things "over there" he much rather prefers to reside in the States.

Mr. Berner, who has 19 years experience sailing in Uncle Sam's Merchant Marine, left New York City on July 13, 1946 for his visit to his aged parents and only sister on the Norwegian Liner, Stavangerfjord, and sailed into his native city, of Bergen, Norway, where he was greeted by his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Olson, 81 and 80 years of age respectively and his sister, Margaret Olson, for the first reunion in 20 years. Arriving here in 1917, Mr. Berner dropped the name Olson to simplify matters.

Bergen is a seaport city of 120,000 population and during the war one fifth of it was wiped out by the Germans, but the damage has most all been repaired. Throughout Norway, Mr. Berner reported, rationing is still in effect, but there is no want there, everyone getting all they need to live on. Prices on the average, with the exception of tobacco are on the same level as in America. Cigarettes sell for three cents or about 75 cents in American money.

No Strikes in Norway

One of the amazing things about Norway, is that there are no strikes there. Workers are unionized with their representatives having a voice in the government when any difference arises. The average wage is $35 a week in the city, where most of the men are engaged in the shipping industry. Norway's women, like American girls for the most part, have left industry and have returned to their homes as wives.

Mr. Berner's aged father is a wood carver by trade and some excellent specimens of the work was brought back on the return trip. Among these is the only lump of its kind in the United States and considered priceless. The lump is fashioned similar to the old time gas lamp that the lamp lighter used to come along and light and underneath are a typical Norwegian couple returning laden from the fish market. Each carry an old fashion umbrella, to keep off the rain. It is carved from flaming birch. Other excellent samples of the wood were shown including another typical couple and numerous wooden dishes polished to a high degree.

Following in his father's footsteps, Mr. Berner has some very fine samples of carving that he has done himself. Included are several walnut carved spoons, an old time sailing vessel and several fine cabinets. Mr. Berner met his wife, who is one of twins, in Florida during a visit there 14 years ago. The couple have no children. Before returning to his work as a cabinet maker he intends to rest for a bit and muse over the many childhood memories that were brought back to mind during his visit.

SOCIAL STUDIES CONFERENCE

New Castle, Pa.
December 9, 1946.

Editor News,
New Castle, Pa.
Although the United Nations are making history at our doorstep, it is impossible for everyone to observe. We cannot all man listening posts at Lake Success or Flushing Meadows. So I should like to share with the readers of The News, some observations on the Social Studies Conference at Boston and on committee sessions of the United Nations as written to me by Elsie Calvin, instructor in the Social Studies Department of the Senior High School.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. W. L. MIRIAM M. COSEL.

The letter is as follows:
I have just returned from the east where I attended the 26th annual convention of the National Council on the Social Studies held at the Statler in Boston and from New York where for the past week, I attended several sessions of the United Nations meetings being held at Lake Success. During the convention of the National Council, attended by nearly 100 teachers from 31 states we were entertained at a Thanksgiving dinner at Plymouth, Mass. after which we attended the Town Meeting of the Air in the Plymouth Municipal Auditorium.

Among the very national problems discussed were such pressing ones as:
1. Developing citizens of our time.
2. Some technique of critical thinking and newspaper reading.
3. Politics, elections and the social studies.
4. In-school civic experience and many others, contributing our schools and teachers.

Among the international problems discussed were such timely ones as:
1. Teaching of international understanding.
2. Improvements of intergroup relationships.
3. The role of the United States in world affairs.
4. What we should know about the United Nations.
5. Cooperation between U. S. S. C. O. and our schools.

These discussions were led by such national guest speakers as: Mr. Murray N. E. A. Henry Noble McCracken, President Emeritus, Vassar College, William Asst. Dir., Public Information, United Nations, and Harold Benjamin, Dir. of International Education, United States Office of Education, to mention only a few of them.

May I repeat that nearly 400 teachers from 31 states were entertained about these problems to be willing to spend their Thanksgiving holidays in the study and discussion of such problems facing our schools.

At the close of the convention in Boston, I went to New York where I attended several sessions of the United Nations committee meetings at Lake Success. These committees were preparing special reports which are to be presented to the plenary session of the United Nations Assembly at Flushing this coming week. Three such committees mentioned above shall attempt to mention only a few of them.

1. Economic and Social Council, which was discussing Trusteeship.
2. General Assembly, Human Rights and Cultural Questions.
(a) Mrs. Roosevelt is the U. S. Representative.
(b) Bernard Baruch is the U. S. Alternate.

Mr. Berner presented detailed U. S. plans for disarmament, which was discussed in a resolution on the plan which was taken under consideration by the committee.

There seemed to be great interest on the part of the public for almost without exception, it was difficult to get a glimpse of the interior of the committee rooms, especially where top-secret, used in translation, were needed.

The enormous ex-precision-instrument plant, used at Lake Success, with its air-traffic lounges for delegates, with its large well-lighted, radio-equipped assembly rooms, long corridors, and its smaller committee rooms were all typical of American "the biggest the best, the most comfortable" and most easily supplied with efficient assistants. All impressed even an American with the abundant surroundings of the hostesses. It must have cost much to have furnished these temporary headquarters, but a very small amount, in such a room compared with the great expenditures for war. We hope peace is accomplished for the vast expenditure could be done in a short time.

I wish many Americans, especially social studies teachers, might have the opportunity to see the United Nations leaders at work, they are what our schools and can accomplish little except as their people uphold their hands.

Thanks for listening,
ELISE CALVIN.

Poland Refuses To Allow Papers To Enter Nation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(INS)—The State department revealed today that the Polish government has refused to permit 17 leading Polish-American newspapers published in the United States to enter Poland.

A spokesman said that these were the principal Polish dailies published in the United States and the most influential.

The denial of entry was contained in a decree issued by the director of the Bureau of Press, Publications and Theaters in the official Monitor Polski.

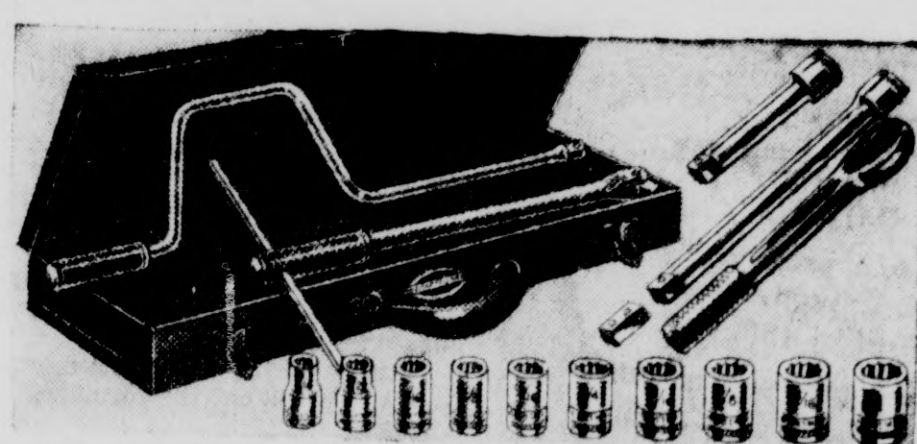

Although contained in the issue of Nov. 15, he added, the embassy in Warsaw was not given a copy until recently.

In addition to the banning of the 17 Polish-American papers, 57 others in Great Britain, Italy, Austria, France and elsewhere were refused entry.

St. Mary's Sodality Reception Is Held

Sodalists Reception Held During Triduum Services Honoring Virgin Mary

Honoring the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, celebrated on December 8, the Sodalists of the Sodality of Our Lady of St. Mary church attended Triduum devotions held Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings. Rev. Francis I. Kuczyński of Madonna church was guest speaker Friday evening and Rev. Ignatius A. Koller, the Sodality director, spoke on Sunday evening.

At the opening of the Triduum exercises Father Kuczyński spoke on the Immaculate Conception, stressing the fact that it was one of the Sodalists' aims to imitate the virtues of Mary.

Father Koller spoke on the dire need of spiritual nourishment for the soul in contrast to food for physical strength. Father Koller also welcomed the new members which he received into the Sodality.

Those received were: Leona Carrigan, Ellen Campbell, Joanne Flynn, Barbara Gribben, Donna Mae Houck, Rita Logue, Anne Meehan, Elizabeth Minter, Carolyn Pearce, Eleanor Rozan, and Agnes Schineller.

The next regular meeting of the Sodality will take place January 7 at which time new officers will be installed.

Larry Conroy, Penn State's teenage football player in 1944 and 1945, now plays on a service eleven in the Pacific.

EARLY CHRISTMAS SHOPPING PROVES YOUTH'S DOWNFALL

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10.—(INS)—Doing his Christmas shopping early proved the downfall Monday for 19-year-old Arthur Peale, negro. Arthur thought it would be nice to get his girl friend a $300 fur coat, so he did—only he didn't pay for it. Testimony in a Philadelphia court today revealed the youth stole the coat from a neighbor, Mrs. Mary

Patillo, last Nov. 17, and gave it to a friend to keep because it was his "girl's Christmas present."

The friend was dubious, notified police, and Peale admitted the theft. Peale was sentenced to the state industrial school for boys at White Hill.

Lopez, opening the final phase of Senator Claims U. S. Can Make Super A-Bombs

Says Scientists Could Immediately Produce Bombs
Better Than Nagasaki Model

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Sen.
Johnson (D) Col., said that scientists could "right now" make super-atomic bombs many hundreds of times more powerful than the one dropped on Nagasaki.

Johnson emphasized that such bombs are not being made so far as he is informed.

But he declared that the scientists have "worked out the formulas". He added:

"I am satisfied that they can make them right now."

"But they are not making them
so far as I know."

Johnson, member of the joint congressional atomic committee, was a member of the Senate group that framed the atomic control act.

For Disarmament

He is an ardent proponent of world disarmament coupled with a thorough-going inspection system to safeguard against secret building of war machines.

The Colorado senator painted a gloomy picture of the world he said will exist if it continues its arms race. He said:

"The present ones look like firecrackers. We haven't even got started on the possibilities."

"Scientists can construct bombs with many hundreds of times the potential of the Nagasaki bomb.
They already have worked out the formulas."

Johnson, who has heard volumes of secret testimony about atomic energy said not only can vastly more powerful bombs be built from presently-known sources of fissionable materials, but more common elements may replace rare uranium and thorium.

Only in Infancy

Predicting such a development as a further world threat, Johnson said:

"I think we are only in our infancy in the discovery of sources of fissionable material. I think other elements will be used in the future."

Johnson believes the United Nations can find the answer to peace if countries agree to stop their arms race and submit to rigid inspection.

Even with a possible veto hanging over the operation of inspection, Johnson believes it would be workable—a veto simply means the arms race would resume the arms race where they left off.

He sees no danger that inspection will fail to reveal hidden war
plans of an aggressor.

Johnson said that if a nation
found a way to conceal plants turning out new weapons, other signs of war preparations would be apparent to inspectors.

Health Talks

MEAT EATERS

Meat eaters are said to be carnivorous. They eat the flesh of other animals, fish or birds.

Man is so constituted as to be able to subsist on all kinds of food.

Animals which eat plants are able to consume large amounts of food and store up the valuable nutrients in their flesh. They store proteins, vitamins and minerals in such forms as are easily digested and utilized by humans.

Plants provide some protein but it does not seem to be as well suited for human use as meat protein is.
Milk, meat and eggs provide protein which the human body can make use of very well.

Children need more protein in proportion to their size than adults
do because they use it for building material.

Although protein is valuable for growth purposes, it has other valuable properties.
Old people need protein to help
keep them in good health.

FAMOUS DIVISIONS NEED PICKED MEN

Will you measure up?

Out in the Far East—in Korea and Japan—the great Army divisions which fought down the hard road to victory in the Orient are now part of a brilliant peacetime team. Their spectacular success adds new luster to battle flags already bright with war-won honors.

Many of these units are now taking in new men. They accept only the best—rugged, keen young soldiers capable of fitting the roles established by men who preceded them.

If you can measure up to the standards required, it is possible for you to join such outstanding units. A three-year enlistment for duty in the Far East enables you to choose the division with which you'll serve after completing your initial training in the U. S.

While serving your country in these fascinating places, you will be provided excellent living facilities. Far Eastern forces are comfortably garrisoned with fine recreational services conveniently near.

Overseas duty also boosts new Army base pay by 20%
—a Private makes $90 a month, clear of food, clothing, medical and dental expenses. Your nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Officer can furnish all details.

Police Hold 56 After Wisconsin Plant Rioting

WEST ALLIES, Wis., Dec. 10.—
(INS)—Police held 56 CIO demonstrators in court action today following the worst riot so far experienced in the seven months history of the Allies-Gladders Manufacturing Co. strike at West Allies.

The riot, latest in a series at the big farm equipment plant recently, was touched off late yesterday when 2,500 non-striking production workers began leaving for their homes
at the end of the day's work.

Three hundred sheriff's deputies and policemen tried to clear a way for the workers' automobiles through approximately 1500 CIO pickets and sympathizers who milled around the exit gate.

Fists started to fly and rocks were hurled as the two forces met in a half-hour's fierce battle. Police eventually cleared a way for the passage of the more than 900 non-striking workers' cars.

But this was only after most of the approximately 700 policemen on duty at other gates of the plant reinforced the embattled 300 at the riot scene.

Police said the casualties were heavy. More than 75 persons were injured during the rioting, 22 of them law enforcement officers.

MONONGAHELA — Al Gaddis,
49-year-old Georgia transient claimed the cold weather prompted him to take the drink of liquor which later led him to break a window, enter a store and spend about an hour at a telephone calling numbers at random until police arrived.

PITTSBURGH — Thirty eight years haven't lessened regard for three million dollars. An Indiana lawyer spent $101 for copies of records in the Union Trust Company's suit against the National Glass Company in 1908.

Thirty-One Jurors In Panel Excused

Session Of Lawrence County Court Is Not Likely Next Week

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

December term of criminal court got under way Monday with 31 of the jurors empaneled being excused from service. This leaves 69 men and women from whom juries will be selected to try the cases on the list.

While this term will last slightly longer than preceding terms for the past several years it is doubtful if there will be criminal court next week. If all cases listed are tried,
there is a possibility of a short session next week but the odds are against it just now.

Their Career, CWO Thorn Of Local Recruiting Station Says

Sixteen men from New Castle and vicinity enlisted in the regular army
during the month of November.

CWO R. S. Thorn, local recruiting officer, announced. Many of these men had previous service and stated they were re-enlisting because of the sure pay and security the army affords. Most of these re-enlistments feel that they will now make a career of the army after a full comparison of military with civilian life.

The army is offering 40,000 good jobs a month to men who are able to meet the military intelligence and physical standards. There is now an opportunity to enlist directly for several combat divisions in Japan, namely, the 11th airborne, first cavalry and sixth, 24th and 25th infantry or the seventh infantry division presently stationed in Korea. Several New Castle

youths have selected the first cavalry division. This choice of organization enables men from the same community to be stationed together.

during the past few years.

Among the scheduled appearances of the unique choir will be: Alhira Home, Friday afternoon; New Cas-

of Mrs. Emma Richards is preparing a program of 18 different carols

which will be interspersed by various scripture readings by the members.
The new choral robes will be used during the presentations.

Almost every class in the building is preparing for the annual Christmas play, "The Lonely Child," which will be presented on Friday, December 20. All the scenery for the play is being constructed in the art classes.

Ready Plans For Farm Show At Harrisburg

Exposition To Be First Full Scale Exhibit At Capital Since 1942 Is Report

MANY FEATURES HEADLINE SHOW

HARRISBURG, Dec. 10.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania farm show commission pushed final preparations for the 1947 exposition to be the first full-scale exhibit since 1942.

The five-day show was scheduled to open January 13 in the mammoth exposition building at Harrisburg in the traditional carnival atmosphere dimmed by wartime restrictions.

The series of educational conferences that marked the last four farm shows will give way this year to colorful displays of farm produce, preserved goods, needle craft and farm machinery and numerous rural contests and festivals.

Feature exhibitions included a state police rodeo, scheduled to be held during the opening night, a talent festival, horse pulling and horseshoe pitching contests.

700 To Participate
Approximately 700 farm people were expected to participate in the talent show, centered around a choral program and the 100-piece band of the Future Farmers of America.

Entries were being accepted for horse-and-jockey pitching matches, the commission reported, and "promise unusual competition for these events."

A time of war-born hardships will be felt in restrictions against displays of baked goods. Due to the sugar and shortening scarcity, the cooking fair has been discarded and blue ribbons for prize-winning cakes, bread and pies set aside for more normal times.

The livestock barns were expected to be the large centers of attraction. Large new cattle pens were erected in sections of the building constructed by the army for shop training during the war.

Expect Big Crowds

Crowds were expected to flock to the poultry exhibits in view of recent bans on other public displays of fowl in the state's battle against Newcastle disease, a nervous malady of chickens.

Special precautions have been taken to inspect show birds upon their arrival at the exhibit building and to segregate and ship back diseased fowl. Birds entered in the exhibit will be examined daily against contagious ailments.

Feed Big Item

Livestock feed was listed by the state agriculture department as the largest expense item in connection with farming.

Pennsylvania farmers spent $123,431,000 for feed during 1945, nearly three times the cost of feeding animals and poultry during 1939, according to federal-state crop reporting service.

"The increase was due" mostly to great advances in the price of all feeds during war years," the service said, "but stemmed also from addition of approximately 100,000 cows and 13,500,000 chickens."

Total farm operation costs in the state last year were $403,000,000. Gross income from produce amounted to $337,000,000, two-thirds representing returns from dairy and poultry products.

Pennsylvania State College economists predict venison will be a popular replacement of expensive meats this winter—if hunters are lucky.

The agricultural extension service has published circulars on dressing and cooking venison for distribution to the public.

THADDEUS STEVENS, FRANKLIN CHOIRS COMBINE IN PROGRAM

Combining for two Christmas programs, the Ben Franklin Junior high school choir and the Thaddeus Stevens choir will present a joint recital of carols to the Woman's club on Monday, in the Franklin auditorium, and again to the Franklin students on Thursday.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—(INS)—The Manchester Guardian, in a Moscow dispatch, said today the press blames the United States for stirring up trouble in Iran.

It added that Iranian Premier Ahmed Ghavam Sultaneh is yielding to pressure of reactionaries in his own party, as well as to pressure from abroad.

Expect Protests On Agreement On German Zones

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(INS)—The Anglo-American agreement for the unification of the economy of their two occupation zones in Germany was expected today to produce protests from some countries dissatisfied with the arrangement.

Washington quarters said that these protests, it made, will be flatly rejected by the United States and British governments.

The agreement provides for the investment of one billion dollars by the two countries in an effort to get the two zones to operate on a day-to-day basis. The arrangement, announced last week in New York, is expected to place the area in a position to pay a part of the occupation costs.

Criticism of the plan has been strongest in France. It comes primarily from the Communist party, the strongest in the country and the one most likely to force official action.

However, the French government has been adamant against joining the economic unification program, despite pledges made at Potsdam, to which, France argues, it was not a party—that all Germany's economy be integrated.

FATALITY LIST

HARRISBURG, Dec. 10.—(INS)—State Health Department officials reported today that 7,758 persons died in Pennsylvania during August while births in the same month totaled 20,724.

Deny Bevin Ever Made Statement

LONDON, Dec. 10.—(INS)—A government source denied today that Foreign Secretary Bevin had ever said "British troops are stationed in Palestine as protection against the Soviets."

This statement was ascribed to Bevin by John J. Smertenko, vice president of the American league for a free Palestine.

Smertenko said the British foreign secretary made the comment in an off-the-record talk a year ago with former U. S. Senator Guy M. Gillette and several other Americans.

An authoritative British source replied that a check of the record of Bevin's conversations showed no statement of the nature mentioned by Smertenko.

Second Attempted Break At Columbus Is Foiled By Guard

Cell Block Guard Finds Hidden Rope Made Of Strips Of Torn Mattress Cover

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 10.—(INS)—The second attempted "break" within a month by federal prisoners held in the Columbus city jail was foiled today as a cell block guard discovered a rope, made of strips torn from a mattress cover, hidden in a cell.

Patrolman Blueford Malope reported he discovered the rope under the mattress of John H. Mills, of Pittsburgh, a mugger in the November 13 escape attempt. Mills is awaiting trial on Dyer Act (interstate auto theft) charges.

Inspector Thomas J. Scully theorized that Mills intended to lower the 50-foot rope from his cell window to the ground, where an accomplice would tie the weapons to it to be hoisted through the bars. Federal officials were called into the case.

Dr. Gruen Tells Rotarians About Life In Free Danzig

Former Chief Rabbi There Contrasts Life In Danzig With That In A Democracy

Dr. Iwan J. Gruen, pastor of Temple Israel synagogue, who was chief rabbi in the Free City of Danzig, prior to the war, contrasted life there and with that in America, in a stirring address delivered to members of the New Castle Rotary club at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton Monday.

Dr. Gruen stated that on his departure from Danzig, before the Nazi occupation forces took over, he was told by a German that he envied the doctor because he was able to get out of there before the storm broke. Many, however, were not of that opinion, including some who were Jews.

He told of the experience he had in arguing the difference between putting one's faith in religion, and that of putting one's faith in the state, for security. After this man had been able to escape the Nazis, and had had his property confiscated, and had been brutally beaten by these custodians of the state, he was able to see the fallacy of the Nazi philosophy.

The Nazis, he stated, not only murdered Jews, but they crucified the spirit of Christianity. The events which happened during the war, he stated, have greatly strengthened his conviction that the only hope for man lies in religion.

Announcement was made by President Carlton Ferris, that the committee in charge of arranging the annual Christmas party for underprivileged children of the city have their plans well in hand. This event will take place a week from tonight with the Rotary Ann's helping the club with the arrangements.

There will be a Santa Claus, fine program of entertainment, gifts, and lunch for the kiddies fortunate enough to be invited.

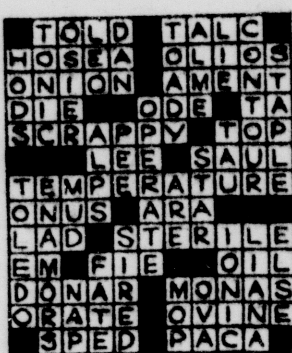

Thursday night, the members of the club will be the guests of their friends from the rural section at a dinner meeting and entertainment at East Brook High school.

WEALTHY MERCHANT ON TRIAL IN PLOT TO MURDER SPOUSE

BELVIDERE, N.J., Dec. 10.—(INS)—James C. Gibbs, wealthy Johnsbury feed merchant, today was on trial for a second time on charges of master-minding an unsuccessful plot to kill his wife, May. Gibbs was found guilty of the charge a year ago, fined $5000 and sentenced to five to seven years in jail. The New Jersey supreme court ruled later, however, that he had been convicted on a faulty indictment.

Frank Whitman, a handyman who was credited with foiling the alleged plot, testified at the opening of the second trial that Gibbs offered him $500 to "strangle my wife to death."

CLAIMS RUSSIA

DELAYS AUSTRIA DENAZIFICATION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(INS)—A state department spokesman on Monday declared that the Soviet Union has been responsible for delaying the denazification of Austria.

He was asked to comment on reports from Vienna that in doing this the Soviet government was impelled by a desire to continue the concentration camps in Austria. He declined to discuss this interpretation, but did note that a denazification law supported by all parties, including the communists, had been proclaimed on Aug. 24. Since then, he said, the Soviet representative on the control council has refused to consent to carrying out of the law and was opposed by the United States with the support of the United Kingdom. "The Soviets have had only themselves to blame for withholding consent to the laws passed by the Austrian government," he commented. In 1915, Roland Garros of the French air force perfected a machine-gun fire control invention which made it possible to fire thru a revolving propeller.

LEAPS TO DEATH

WHEELING, W. Va., Dec. 10.—(INS)—Police Monday reported that Pauline Gance, pretty 20-year-old department store elevator operator, leaped to her death from a bridge into the Ohio river at Wheeling. No motive for the plunge was advanced.

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 10.—(INS)—Writing musical scores for motion pictures, in the opinion of Jack Meakin, is a lot easier than skinning a cat.

That, in fact, is exactly why Meakin is putting music to movies these days instead of hemstitching people as a surgeon.

Jack Meakin confessed the whole sad story today of his brief medical career at Stanford University, the fact he couldn't bring himself to dissect and how he got a baton into his hands instead of a scalpel.

Boasting his first screen composing credit in Republics "Out California Way" and reaching a brand new low in scoring for R-K-O's "Fortunio," "Music and Violence," Meakin said:

"My father was a Salt Lake City dentist and always wanted me to be a doctor, so I went to Stanford. After three years of pre-med, another fellow and I found ourselves late in registering for any anatomy

"There wasn't any room for us, so the prof told us to catch a couple of cats and, at the end of the term, report back on their circulatory system—by chloroforming them and taking 'em apart piece by piece.

"The other student, Fred Fellows, made the grade and now he's a respected San Francisco doctor. Meanwhile, I found the granddaddy of all tomcats, but simply couldn't bring myself to go to work on him.

"So I quit school and went to work in a San Francisco bank, playing piano in an orchestra on the side."

What hit the stock market crash of two banking went blooey. Young Jack Minsky found himself checking invoices instead of coins for a living.

He broke into the movie business as the guy who plays the piano when a network show falls to come through—and while composing and directing shows at a local night club, worked his way up to the post of musical director for the National Broadcasting Company.

He showed naturally beckoned, as the nation's principal center for radio production. The movies presented a pleasant sideline. That's how he wrote the song, "Our California Way," which Republic decided not only was a good number but a swell title for their current summer feature.

Now Minsky is launching an idea that promises to bring something new to movie music. He has a theory that it's silly to shoot a whole movie, then toss it in a composer's lap and tell him to write a score for it.

For probably the first time in movie history, when the cameras begin to roll at R-K-O on "Music and Violence," the director and producer not only will have a shooting script, but a complete musical score in their hands, carefully integrated to the story.

Pigmented paint should not be used on propellers as it covers, fills in splits and checks. It also hides crushed portions that sometimes appear around bolt holes in the hub.

Four 65,000 horsepower electric motors—each as big as a modern six-room house—will be built by Westinghouse in the company's East Pittsburgh works.

Up to the present time the most powerful single alternating current motor ever built is the 40,000 horsepower unit at Wright field Dayton, O.

Some large passenger and air cargo planes in use today carry from 2,000 to 3,000 gallons of fuel in their tanks.

Returns from trip

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10.—(INS.)—Carnegie Museum's curator of ornithology has returned from a Canadian expedition, which netted the explorers a wide variety of specimens of birds, animal and insect life native to the area.

Dr. Arthur C. Twomey reported that among big game specimens taken were black and grizzly bears, moose, mule deer, mountain caribou, Rocky mountain goats and sheep, timber wolves and coyotes.

The collection, although primarily for scientific study, will likely find its way into the public exhibitions in the Pittsburgh museum.

Big game hunters will welcome reports that grizzly bears, the highly prized king of North American beasts, are overly plentiful in the northern area, and also reported a marked increase in wolf packs as compared with observations made during the 1945 expedition. The group counted 130 wolves this summer against only 50 sighted a year ago.

There are 108,202 miles of urban transit routes in the United States over which 89,240 subways, street cars and buses operate.

Sneezing Fish Tale Tops Freak Mishaps

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—(INS)—A salmon's sneeze which wrecked an automobile was listed today by the National Safety Council as the most unusual cause in the top freak accidents of 1946.

Other freak accidents which the council's annual report headlined were:

"Dog shoots woman."
 "Shot at sparrow causes $50,000 explosion."
 "Rabbit shoots hunter."
 "Ice cube knocks out girl."
 "Dead goose hospitalizes veteran hunter."

James Mantakes of La Grange, Ore., was the victim of the sneezing salmon. Shortly after he caught it and tossed it in the rear of his car, he headed home.

Dust In Gills
 Dust got in the fish's gills and it sneezed.

Mantakes glanced back, just as the salmon snapped at a grasshopper. It missed the grasshopper and landed in Mantakes' lap.

Unnerved, Mantakes lost control of his car.

The car plunged off the road for the top freak accident of the year.

In Baltimore, Md., Mrs. Ruth Patterson was bathing when her puppy dog, pawing the trigger of a nearby gun, shot her.

In Plymouth, Wis., 16-year-old Robert Marth shot a sparrow perched on a wagon.

Marth missed the bird but hit his wagon perch, setting off 1,300 pounds of dynamite.

The damage caused by the blast which shattered hundreds of windows in the area and disrupted power service, was $30,000.

Marth later was fined a total of $26.

 Edward M. Brown of Beverly Hills, Cal., who went through two theaters of war unscratched, was the veteran hunter hospitalized by a dead goose.

The goose, shot by another hunter, landed on Brown's chest. He was hospitalized for 45 days.

In Louisville, Ky., William Humphrey, 16, stuffed a rabbit in his hunting bag. The rabbit's foot caught the trigger of Humphrey's gun, wounding him.

New Castle High Quintet Battles Avalon Here Tonight

High Passers Pepped Up For Second Battle

Coach Bill Douglass Has "Whiz Kids" Ready For Tussle With Avalon Flippers

JUNIOR VARSITIES PLAY AT 7 O'CLOCK

Anxious to present Bill Douglass with his first victory as a New Castle high school basketball coach, a determined, scrappy gang of "Whiz Kids" will set about tonight at Washington High court to upset the fast Avalon High quintet in the second game on the pre-league December card. The junior varsities of both schools will play the preliminary game at 7 o'clock.

Not a bit downhearted over their 28 to 25 loss at the hands of the tall veteran Youngstown East flippers in the lid-lifter, the New Castle team took a final workout last evening in stride and are rarin' to go tonight.

No Easy Schedule. New Castle's 1946-47 team lacks experience, not fight, as they seek to start along victory road over a tough pre-league schedule that calls for meetings with Westinghouse, Butler, Altoona, Johnstown and Altoona before tackling the terrific Section Three card on January 3.

Coach Douglass hopes by the first of the year to have his boys playing the kind of basketball that he is used to, and will probably accomplish his purpose, Douglass said, by a fast brand of basketball, zipping the ball around, and not much dribbling.

Lineup Changed. "I intend to start a different first team tonight," Douglass said, "with the two Dons, Black and Spears, at the forwards, Chuck Rea at center and Don Watters and either Gene Gribble or Paul Cuba, Jr., at the guards. Grybowski, Janacone and Martoculi are sure to see a lot of action, but I want to try out various combinations."

"In Tony Cialella and Ira Brown we have a couple of good replacements," Douglass announced. "Another lad who is showing up well is 'Jumping Joe' Pulea, former Franklin High star, and he may break into the varsity lineup this evening."

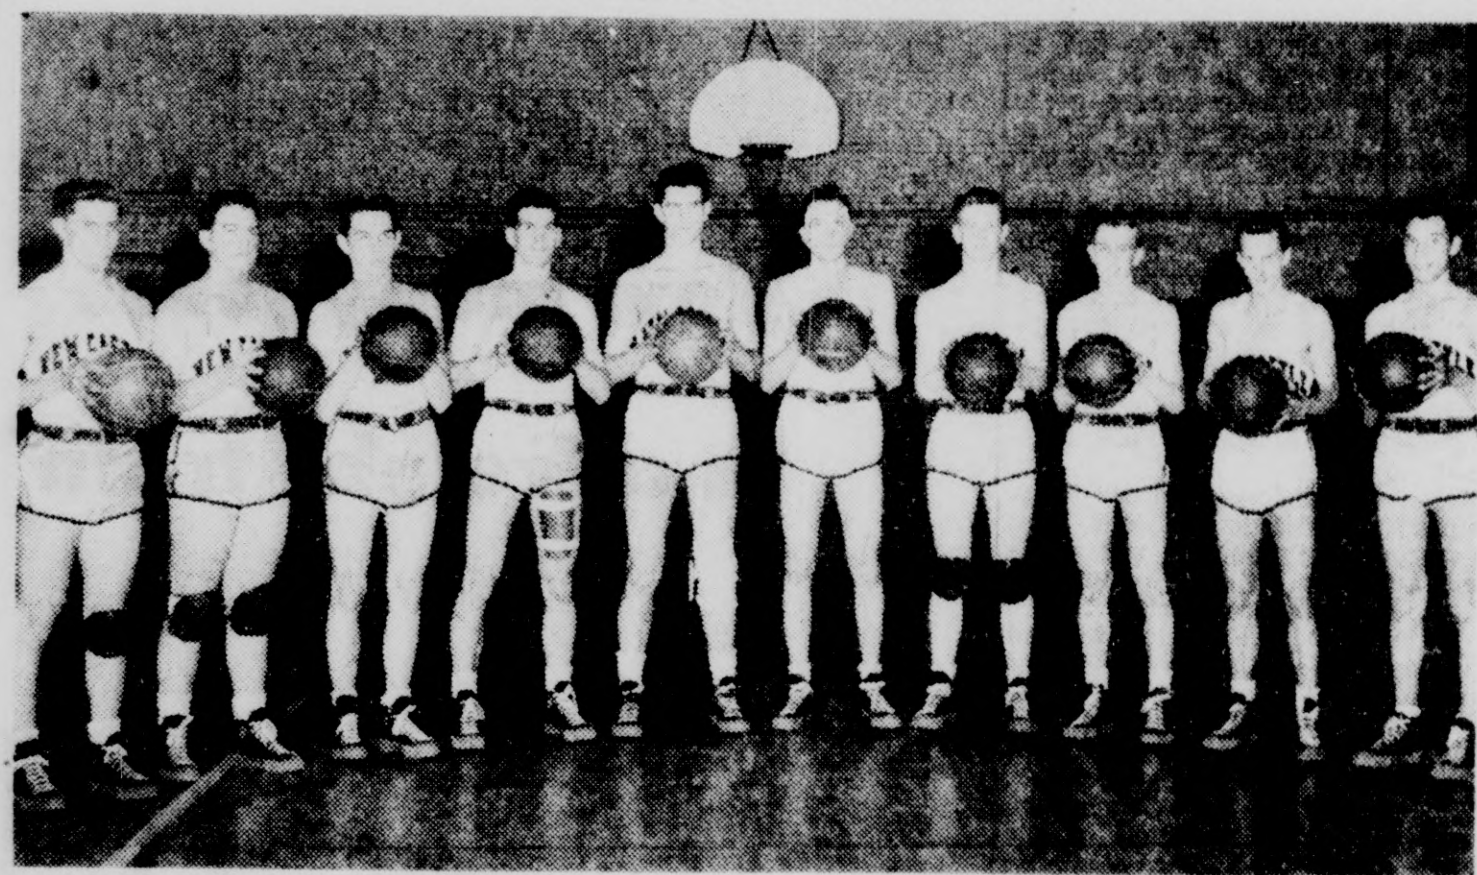

Avalon Good Club. New Castle is running into a good Avalon High team tonight, one that was good enough to win the championship in their class last year, but will have but one veteran back—Eddie Brink, a tall center going 5 feet 11 inches. Coach Harry Denison has another crackjack club this year and will give New Castle a tough battle all the way, it was indicated.

The prices for the game will be 60 cents for reserved seat and 50 cents for general admission, 25 cents for students. Over 1,000 saw the opening game last Friday, Mills announced.

District Churches Will Have Meeting

There will be a meeting of representatives of the Mt. Jackson Church Basketball league at the Mt. Jackson high school at 8 o'clock tonight. Any church wishing to enter the league should have a representative at the meeting tonight. The schedule of games will be drawn up at the meeting.

New Castle High's 1946-47 Floor Squad

Heavy Deer Kill In State, Reports So Far Contend

Hunting Fatalities Are Decreasing, Probably Due To 'Safety Campaign'

HARRISBURG, Dec. 10.—(INS)—Game commission officials expressed hope today that fatalities during the 1946 deer season would not increase.

Officials explained that during the 1945 season nine hunters lost their lives while 2 have been killed so far this year. The season will end December 14.

Six sportsmen were killed during the month-long small game season and one in the five-day bear hunting period which closed November 23.

Intensified "hunt safely" campaigns were credited by officials with reducing fatalities.

Report Heavy Kill. Although no statistics were available, the commission said "more hunters were afield and apparently more deer were killed" in the initial days of the 1946 season than in the same period of last year.

The 1945 kill totaled 25,660 including 10,955 antlerless deer. Preliminary reports indicated that deer killed in forest areas were small and had puny antlers while the animals slain in wooded sections near farm lands were "bigger and heavier, with better racks."

Californians Are Very Disappointed

WEST POINT, N. Y., Dec. 10.—(INS)—Glenn Davis, the Californian all-American back of the West Point football team, had a heart-warming tribute today from native sons.

Eighteen hundred U. C. L. A. undergraduates sent "junior" a round-robin note expressing their keen disappointment that Davis and the unbeaten West Point eleven were not named to oppose their own unbeaten team in the Rose Bowl on Jan. 1.

Home attendance at Penn State's four football games topped 60,000 for the first time in 20 years.

Bessemer Legion Cagers Post Win

Bessemer's American Legion basketball team sharpened their weapons for participation in league competition last night by topping a strong Youngstown Sheet and Tube five at the Bessemer floor 51-46.

Paced by their fine guard, Pelto, with 17 points, the Cement City five flashed great form and gave promise that they will be tough customers in the Legion loop this winter. E. Ellis and Godward were high men for the Ohioans with 15 markers.

Milton A.C. Five Returns To Floor

After an absence of four years the strong Milton A. C. team is picking up the basketball threads again with the majority of the boys home from the wars and will be heard from this year and in 1947. The team will be coached again by the veteran William "Pat" Patton.

A strong lineup is predicted with such stars as Humphreys, Fazzone, F. Stockman, Eddie Jacobs, D. Stockman, "Hick" Davies, Janacone R. Tomaleio, "Al" Jones and Dunlap available.

For games with the Milton A. C. contact Coach Patton at phone 7567-R.

The Miltons will play the Keystone A. C. tonight at 7 o'clock in a House league game at the "Y." It was announced the Miltons having recently joined the House loop.

Fox 'Kayoes' Shelton Bell

Ohioan Who Boxed Here Takes Bad Body Beating, Loses In Fifth Round

WINNER TO BOX GUS LESNEVICH

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10.—(INS)—It was an old story re-told today to Blackjack Billy Fox, Philadelphia lightweight, who chalked up his forty-second straight knock-out at the expense of Shelton Bell, of Youngstown, O.

Bell, who can well attest to Billy's reputation as the "Blackjack," took the count in 1:51 of the fifth round, and then left the arena for Presbyterian hospital for examination of severe bruises of the abdomen and ribs.

The Ohioan later was taken to his hotel room, but further examination was scheduled to determine if he had suffered any fractured ribs.

Left Hook Effective. Bell, 173 pounds, went down three times in the third round, and Fox clinaxed his pay-dirt onslaught with a left-hook to the stomach that ended the bout.

Fox, who fought at 176 pounds, is scheduled to meet champion Gus Lesnevich for 15 rounds at Madison Square Garden February 28.

Billy Arnold, 155-pounder of Philadelphia, scored a technical knock-out over Baltimore's Billy Carrigan in the third round of the eight-frame semi-windup, a re-match. Carrigan won a surprise decision in their earlier meeting.

Kronowitz Wins

In New York's St. Nicholas rink last night, Herbie Kronowitz, hard-punching middleweight, turned in another victory. He defeated Ed Walker in a 10-round bout. About a week ago Kronowitz stopped Russell Baxter of this city in the fourth round at the Broadway Arena New York. In Newark N. J., Norman Rubio, of Albany, defeated Tony Vero of Stamford, in an eight round, welterweight battle.

To Many Managers

CLEVELAND, Dec. 10.—(INS)—Too many cooks may have spoiled the broth but too many managers have stopped today, at least temporarily, the projected comeback of Cleveland's Jimmy Bivins.

Matchmaker Larry Atkins called off the Burns-Lee Q. Murray bout slated for next Monday in Cleveland because of feared legal entanglements due to the Connecticut fighter's doubtful managerial status.

Atkins declared that Murray's plan for this bout with Burns last summer in Cleveland was held up by a man who contended to be Murray's first manager, and the argument is still in the courts.

Many Golfers At Muny Sunday

Sunday proved an ideal day for golfing, and a large group of enthusiasts took advantage of the occasion to play over the Sylvan Heights layout, and found it in pretty good shape.

County Champion A. J. Timmy Lombardo was in his usual form, while Jimmy Galone proved that he has lost none of his putting knack by dropping them in with regularity, having but 14 strokes on the green in 14 holes.

Among those who were out were Elio Amato, Albert and Anthony Nocera, Jack Connelly, Fred Lombardo, Mike Furdo, A. J. Lombardo, Stan Bukowski, James Gaione, Art Prioretti, Ted Turko, Greene Buonpane, Titus Month, Mike Lombardo, Gene Audia, Fred Welker, Joe Bordonaro and Louis Wolfe.

CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—(INS)—The Chicago White Sox baseball club was seeking a third base coach today, following the release of George (Mule) Haas, veteran director of runners at the hot corner.

Trounce First U. P. 42 To 33, Leaving St. Pauls, Wampum Only Threats To Leadership

Second U. P.'s star-studded lineup continued its winning ways in the New Castle Church basketball league at the "Y" last night, by smothering a heretofore undefeated First U. P. team under a 42 to 33 count, leaving the St. Paul's Lutherans as the only other unbeaten team, and serious threats to the leaders, with the exception of the strong Wampum team.

As usual, the Second team had their three big stars in the thick of the game, Bob Pitzer, Johnny McGary and Francis Pitzer, the trio accounting for 35 of the points. Bob Jackson led the scoring for the losers. Second has four in a row, and will meet St. Paul's, December 23.

H. Marshall Goes Wild

Henry Marshall went on a scoring spree as the strong Wampum team thumped the Central Christians 44 to 33, getting 26 points to grab the leadership in this respect in the Church league. Hopper was best for the losers. Marshall had 10 field goals and six fouls.

In the other game the Epworth team defeated the Trinity quint 43 to 27 with Morgan and Copein in starring roles.

Athletics Extend Farm System, Will Seek New Stars

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10.—(INS)—Arthur Ehlers, former president of the Interstate league, took over the helm of the Philadelphia Athletics' farm system today.

Manager Connie Mack telephoned news of the appointment to Philadelphia reporters from Los Angeles, where he is attending the major-minor league conference.

"We're going to build our farms until they're the equal of any owned in the majors, but we'll have to start slowly," Connie said.

"We've concluded that we must develop our own ball players, as the other clubs are doing."

Mack said the Athletics have "plenty of trades in mind but we can't make them."

"We're not giving up any players who will help us," he added. "That's why we're holding on to Sam Chapman. We want to see what he can do next year, and we feel he'll make good. If he does, we'll pay him as much as he could get from any other club."

Titans Opening College Card

Play St. Vincents Tonight At New Wilmington, Leave Wednesday For East

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 10.—Although their thoughts will really be directed toward next Saturday night's game at Madison Square Garden with CCNY, the Westminster College cagers will take the floor in their opening intercollegiate tilt with St. Vincent, here tonight.

St. Vincent from LaRoche has gone to the post several times and reports indicate that while the club is strong the Titans should have no difficulty starting the season on the right foot. The "Saints" dropped a 67-33 decision to Wash-Jeff Saturday night.

With a month's pre-season drills behind them, the Titans are expected to open with Heddleston and McWhinney at the forwards; Dembinsky, center; Paine and Jones, at guards. Most likely to break into the opening lineup is Dean Nelson, a veteran guard who may get the call over Jones.

Leave Wednesday. St. Vincent, coached by Guy Bernardino, is expected to use Bannion and Korneke at forwards; Joseph, center; Lynch and Khorey at guards. The team played at Alliance College Monday night, losing 62 to 61 in an overtime game.

The tipoff will take place at 8:15 with Buchanan and Zarilla of Pittsburgh officiating. There is no preliminary.

Coach Washabaugh of the Titans has announced that his boys will board a special bus at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday for Millersville, where the future teachers will be met Thursday night. The squad will arrive in New York City Friday morning and practice at the Gardens the same day in preparation for the Saturday night game.

Phillies Start Selling Tickets

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10.—(INS)—With a rosy eye toward next season, the Phillies threw open their box offices today for reservations.

The Phils announced that the Blue Jays will sell fans a series of special box seats from an entire season to any part of it, thereby by-passing scalpers and waiting lines.

Six different purchase plans were offered by the enterprising management. The plans take in night games, holiday games, and special series games.

FRANK COEN, being sheriff, and therefore, the chief guardian of law and order in Lawrence County, is to receive an additional honor tonight when, unopposed, he will be named president of the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association at their meeting in Neshannock hall, Post 315, V. F. W. He should be a very capable sportsman's chief, because for years he has been a game protector, is fully cognizant with fish conditions, and no doubt will continue the policy of his predecessor, Bob Lamoree, to press for more game and fish.

Ps-sst! Here & There has been informed that W. M. Roberts, member of the state board of fisheries, hopes to have some muskies for Lawrence County fishermen in a year or more. And while on the subject of wild life, it may be timely to state that eight of the three score pheasants (approximately two score 10 of which were males), reared and released by Jack Gerson at his East Brook camp, were shot down and captured by hunters who turned in the birds received by Gerson. According to Gerson, all of the birds killed had developed nice lighters. Those who were successful follows: Walter E. Dean, R. D. 5, E. J. Rosenholm and his brother, Lynn, R. D. 5; W. V. Brooks, R. D. 5; D. J. McCormick, Craig street; Don Kely, New Wilmington, R. D. 1; James Moses, 15 West Long avenue, and Noah Book, 1410 Jackson avenue. According to reports the birds did not travel too far from the Gerson camp. Dean and E. J. Rosenholm shot their birds in Highland Heights district; Brooks brought down his quarry one mile from East Brook. Lynn Rosenholm killed his bird at Lakeview. McCormick shot down his bird near Bud Fieger's camp along the Neshannock. Keeley was successful along the Highland Heights road. Moses was lucky at East Brook and Book shot his ringneck in Painter Hill vicinity.

Ad Lang, who brought from Canada, a buck he shot, is now at Ward's ranch, Forest County, having departed yesterday. . . . Police report a doe leaped against the side of an auto in North Liberty street, was knocked down and stunned, but came to, and scampered away. . . . Two timber wolves were shot this year in the upper tier of Pennsylvania counties. One was killed in McKean County and the second was brought down by H. L. Schucker in Lawrence township, Clearfield County. It was the first wolf ever killed in Clearfield County. . . . Promoter Al Zill, Youngstown, will present Mike Berkovich, of Niles, vs. Jimmy Mandell, of Buffalo, in a 10-round, December 17. . . . Frankie Moran, local southpaw lightweight, is scheduled to box in Trenton, N. J., tonight and in Binghamton, N. Y., Wednesday night, according to Russell Baxter's letter which arrived last week. Moran's opponents are unknown here, as yet. He won his first eastern start in the opening stanza. . . . Ray Robinson and Artie Levine have been matched for a return battle, in Cleveland. Levine floored Robinson but lost the fight. . . . Here & There would appreciate the address in California of Juggers Fonzema. . . . Bill Dudley, Steelers, was the champion ground gainer this season in the National Po' league. . . . George Trautman, new boss of the minor leagues, has red hair. For the number of players concerned, basketball and bowling are running a good race. There are more bowlers than basketballers. It is hoped that when the new school building is erected here, the gymnasium will be sufficiently large to accommodate thousands. Wonder Drugs Lose Potency In Short Time

War Department Says Penicillin, Streptomycin Far From "Sure-Shot" Cure-Alls

By FRANCES MUSIC
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—The War department revealed that in fighting bacteria the "wonder" sulfa drugs, penicillin and streptomycin lose their potency after a few days.

The department made this disclosure in releasing a report to the Surgeon General's office from the Halloran General hospital showing that streptomycin is far from being a "sure-shot" medicine.

The announcement said: "It apparently has specific poisonous effects when given over an extended period, and bacteria soon become resistant to it so that it probably can be used only once with maximum effect within a limited period on the same patient."

Important Point
The report said that observation of the ability of bacteria to develop resistance to the drug after a few days may be of particular importance at this time, adding:

"The same has been noted in respect to both the sulfa drugs and penicillin, but apparently the phenomenon is more pronounced with streptomycin."

Streptomycin became available only late in the war and is still scarce and expensive. One of the hopes of the medical profession has been that it would prove of some value against tuberculosis.

Army investigations in this connection are continuing. It was pointed out that a much longer series will be required before there can be any valid conclusions.

Appears Effective
The new anti-infection agent in the same general class as penicillin appears effective in appropriate doses against more than half the infective bacterial organisms ordinarily encountered by surgeons.

However, in at least one case test tube experiments show that there was a 100-fold increase of the resistance of an organism in ten days. It was revealed that given indiscriminately streptomycin may lose any value for a particular type of infection in an individual for the rest of his life.

Streptomycin is especially valuable for infections of the urinary tract, gonorrheal infection, various dysenteries, septicemia, meningitis, and tularemia or rabbit fever.

SALVAGE CREWS WORK ON EUROPA

LE HAVRE, Dec. 10.—(INS)—Salvage experts striving to save the former German liner Europa, lying on a harbor mudbank with a hole in her side, were spurred today by the threat that another storm might render their task hopeless.

The 49,749-ton liner, one-time holder of the trans-Atlantic speed record, was being pounded by the waves. At high tide her decks were awash.

The Romans first used the ballast systems in 139 B. C.
